Directors' Comments & Additional discussions

Brandon – HS Choir has not had any new enrollees. He intends to just keep building on the program and staying consistent to hopefully draw in more students.

Rose suggested changes to the website and communication strategies. Brandon will look into creating a Google Site for the department to relay information. He will also work to change the icon on the website to show a Calendar – indicating to readers that this is where some important information is stored.

Current communication channels include Google Classroom (parents do not have access), Remind App (for all who have signed up), School website (calendar is stored here), Facebook (primarily for boosters and parents).

Is Final Forms another option? Or at least an option to streamline how information is communicated? Would it be better to have a single source of information or find a different avenue? More discussion and decisions to be had.
